Quality Assured Qualifications

Foreword by the Acting Chief Executive Officer

Ms. Harmoni Beukes

As Namibia continues to grow and adapt in a fast-changing world, education remains one of the most powerful tools for shaping your future. It opens doors, builds confidence, and equips young people with the skills needed to succeed in life and work. It is therefore with great pride that I present the 2026 Accreditation list, a guide designed to help students and families make informed and confident choices about higher education.

First and foremost, I would like to congratulate all learners who have passed their Grade 11 and AS Level examinations. This is a major achievement and the beginning of an exciting new chapter. As you prepare to enter a university, college, or training institution, the decisions you make now will influence not only your career path, but also your opportunities in the years ahead.

One of the most important choices you will make is where you choose to study. In Namibia, not all institutions and programmes are the same. This is why accreditation matters. Studying at an institution that is accredited by the Namibia Qualifications Authority (NQA) means that your qualification meets national quality requirements, is officially recognised, and is aligned with the skills needed in the job market.

The Government of Namibia has taken a strong step towards making higher education more accessible through subsidised tertiary education. This support is meant to benefit students and ease the financial burden on families. However, it is important for students to know that government funding and subsidies only apply to programmes and institutions that meet the Minimum Quality Standards approved by Cabinet and are accredited by the NQA. This ensures that public funds support education that is credible, valuable, and worth your time and effort.

To further strengthen quality, Namibia has approved the National Policy on Qualifications Standards, which works together with the Minimum Quality Standards to protect students and improve learning outcomes. This policy sets clear national benchmarks for all qualifications offered in the country and ensures that programmes are aligned to the National Qualifications Framework (NQF). For students, this means greater confidence that what you study is relevant, consistent, and recognised, both locally and internationally.

The Namibia Qualifications Authority plays a central role in this process. Established under the NQA Act, Act No. 29 of 1996, the NQA is mandated to assure quality, accredit institutions and programmes, and implement the National Qualifications Framework (NQF). Through accreditation, the NQA verifies that institutions meet nationally approved requirements relating to governance, staffing, infrastructure, learning resources, assessment, and student support. Accreditation is therefore not a formality, it is a guarantee to students that their qualifications will be recognised, transferable, and credible within Namibia and beyond.

As Namibia continues to broaden access to tertiary education, including through subsidised education initiatives, the NQA will continue to work closely with the National Council for Higher Education (NCHE), the Ministry of Education, Innovation, Youth, Sports, Arts and Culture, and all stakeholders to ensure that access does not come at the expense of quality. Growth in enrolment must be matched with capacity, compliance, and commitment to excellence.

This publication provides a list of institutions and training providers that have met these national requirements. I strongly encourage all prospective students, parents, and sponsors to use this list as a trusted reference when considering enrollment. Choosing an accredited institution is choosing a future built on quality, credibility, and opportunity.

In closing, I would like to commend all accredited institutions and training providers for their dedication to quality education and continuous improvement. Together, we are building a resilient, credible, and future-ready education system that will serve Namibia for generations to come. Most importantly, to our students: your future matters, and choosing an accredited institution is the first step toward building a career founded on recognised qualifications, lifelong learning, and opportunity.

Together, through strong standards, effective regulation, and informed choices, we are building a quality-driven and inclusive education system that serves the aspirations of every Namibian.

What is Accreditation?

Accreditation is confirmation by the Namibia Qualifications Authority (NQA) that an education and/or training institution in Namibia has the capacity to provide a course or courses of instruction or training and to assess the performance of learners enrolled in such a course or courses. Accreditation applies to any person, institution, or organisation offering training or educational services.

Who should apply for accreditation?

All training providers offering courses that lead to a qualification should apply for accreditation by the NQA. A training provider may be an individual or institution represented by/through a body corporate entity appropriately registered in Namibia. Accreditation is not limited to conventional education and training providers. Training centers, departments, or institutes within companies, government departments, and State Owned Enterprises are eligible to seek accreditation for their courses. Application forms are available from the NQA House in Windhoek and on the website: www.namqa.org.

Why should I study at an accredited institution?

The NQA only evaluates quality-assured qualifications obtained at accredited institutions, whether in Namibia or abroad. Evaluation is the process of confirming whether qualifications are legal and authentic, as well as the accreditation status of the institution they were obtained from.

What are the consequences of studying at an unaccredited institution or unaccredited qualifications?

Qualifications obtained at unaccredited institutions in Namibia or elsewhere in the world are not recognised as legal and therefore hold no value. As most employers' request for the NQA evaluated qualifications, holders of qualifications obtained at unaccredited institutions are likely to struggle to secure employment and to gain acceptance at other institutions to further their studies.

Many unaccredited institutions are operating in Namibia and elsewhere in the world. It is therefore important for all prospective learners to verify the accreditation status of institutions and their qualifications before enrolling for studies so that they do not fall prey to these bogus institutions.

How do I verify the accreditation status of an institution and its qualifications?

The NQA assists prospective learners in verifying the accreditation status of institutions and their qualifications in Namibia and elsewhere in the world. To make use of this free service, simply visit the NQA website: www.namqa.org and complete the 'Request for accreditation status of an institution form' and email it to: advice@namqa.org if the institution you are applying for is elsewhere in the world.

If the institution is in Namibia simply visit the NQA website indicated above, you will find the list of all accredited institutions in Namibia.

You can also obtain the form from the NQA House in Windhoek. The NQA endeavors to respond to all queries within seven working days, depending on the availability of information.

As of 03 December 2025, the following institutions are accredited by the Namibia Qualifications Authority. Persons wishing to verify the current status of any of the listed institutions should contact the NQA.
